The Air We Breathe

The time of Great Lent is wonderful opportunity to check on our breathing.

At the time of Jesus, faithful Jews, such as the scribes and Pharisees observed many religious laws. The life-blood of the Pharisees was the Law of Moses, which comprised not only the written Torah, the first five books of the Old Testament, but also interpretations of the written law which developed over time. There were 613 laws in all, covering every aspect of a person's life, such as diet, ritual washing, keeping the Sabbath, and so on.

The Pharisees believed that only knowing the law thoroughly and following it to the letter would save a Jew. The emphasis was strictly on external observance: if you followed the law exactly, you were all right with God.

But for Jesus, such an approach is not enough. He demands much more. In the Sermon on the Mount, he takes his followers a giant step beyond the law of Moses. Jesus knows that it is possible to keep the law – to avoid committing murder, adultery, false witness – and yet to sin against those commandments by breaking them in spirit. For him, what really matters is not external observance but what goes on inside the human heart – our thoughts, our values, our attitudes, our motivations, what guides our whole approach to life.

Following Jesus means more than avoiding sin, or keeping Church regulations. It is much tougher than that. Following Jesus means making our faith part of the very air we breathe.

Ukrainian Church Leaders Reaffirm Unity With Rome

(Vatican Radio) The head of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church, Major Archbishop Sviatoslav Shevchuk, says a meeting of bishops with Pope Francis this week will be a sign of their "full and visible communion with the successor of Peter".

Members of the Permanent Synod of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church are gathered in Rome from February 29th to March 6th and are scheduled to meet with the Pope on Saturday. The Archbishop's words came at an encounter earlier in the week with members of the Holy See's diplomatic corps, during which he and other Church leaders highlighted the strength of faith but also warned of the huge challenges facing the people of Ukraine today.

Archbishop Shevchuk told diplomats that the meeting of Church leaders in Rome was planned some time ago to mark the 70th anniversary of the "pseudo-Synod" of Lviv which led to the liquidation of the Ukrainian Catholic Church throughout the former Soviet Union. For the next four decades, the Church was persecuted and survived as an underground organisation until the fall of the Communist regime in the early 1990s.

Mary: A Biblical Walk with the Blessed Mother

As Catholics, we have a profound reverence for the Blessed Mother. We turn to her in prayer, in the Liturgy, in the Rosary, and in Marian devotions. We honour her with special feast days, celebrating the significant events in her life. We place icons of her in our churches and homes.

The better we know Mary, the better we will know her Son

Mary: A Biblical Walk with the Blessed Mother is an extraordinary pilgrimage that reveals Mary's unique role in God's Kingdom and in our lives. Filmed on location in the Holy Land, this eight part DVD series will place you in the midst of the powerful drama of Mary's earthly life, taking you through her joys...and her sorrows. You will deepen your devotion to Mary as you discover our Blessed Mother in a uniquely personal way.
