"Make Her Known Throughout the World"

With these words, Pope Pius IX entrusted the Icon of Our Mother of Perpetual Help to the Redemptorists. In 1866, the Icon was placed in the church of St. Alphonsus in Rome for veneration by the faithful and from there devotion to Our Mother of Perpetual Help spread throughout the world. The year 2016 is the 150th anniversary of this moment. A Jubilee Year to honour the Icon of Our Mother of Perpetual Help and to celebrate the 150th anniversary began on June 27, 2015 and continue until June 27, 2016. Knowing that the Icon contains the great message of God's Redemptive Love, Redemptorists throughout the world have chosen as a theme for the Jubilee Year:

Mother of Perpetual Help, Icon of Love.

O Mother of Perpetual Help,

*We come before your holy Icon seeking to follow
Your Son. Mary, please gently guide us to enter more deeply into the mystery of Redemption.*

*Help us as we contemplate the Incarnation,
Passion, Death and Resurrection of Your Son, Jesus, Our Redeemer. Help us to receive and accept the Light of Christ that is in your arms.
Mary, we present our needs to you and ask that you place them in the hands of your Son.*

*Most Holy Mother of God,
Our Mother of Perpetual Help, save us. Amen.*

Pope Francis: holiness is courage, hope, daily conversion

(Vatican Radio) "Walk in the presence of God without reproach." That's how Pope Francis says we can journey towards holiness. During the Homily at Mass at Santa Marta Tuesday, the Pope said that for this commitment to succeed, Christians must be able to hope with courage, open themselves up to discussion, and freely welcome God's grace. Holiness cannot be bought. Neither can it be earned by human strength. No, "the simple holiness of all Christians," "ours – the kind we are called to every day," says the Pope, can only be attained with the help of four essential elements: courage, hope, grace, and conversion.

The path of courage

Taking the liturgical excerpt from the First Letter of St. Peter, which he called a "small treatise on holiness," Pope Francis said holiness means "to walk in the presence of God without reproach." "Holiness is a journey; holiness cannot be bought. It can't be sold. It cannot be given away. Holiness is a journey to God's presence that I must make: no one else can do it in my name. I can pray for someone to be holy, but he's the one who has to work towards [holiness], not me. Walk in God's presence, in an impeccable way." Everyday holiness, the Pope continued, can also be "anonymous." And the first element needed to achieve it is courage: "The path to holiness takes courage."

Hope and grace

"Jesus' Kingdom of Heaven," the Pope stressed, is for "those who have the courage to go forward" and courage, he observed, is generated by "hope," the second element of the journey that leads to holiness. The kind of courage that hopes "in an encounter with Jesus." The third element of this journey towards holiness, the Pope observed, appears in Peter's words: "Put all your hope in that grace." "We cannot achieve holiness on our own," affirmed Pope Francis. "No, it is a grace. Being good, being saintly, going every day a little 'a step forward in the Christian life is a grace of God and we have to ask for it. Courage, a journey. A journey one must take with courage, with hope and with the willingness to receive this grace. And hope: the hope of the journey. Here, the Pope urged the faithful to read the "beautiful" chapter XI of the Letter to the Hebrews, which recounts the journey of "our forefathers, the first to be called by God." "Of our father Abraham, it said: 'But, he went out without knowing where he was going.' But with hope."

Convert every day

In Peter's letter, the Pope continued, we also see the importance of a fourth element: conversion as a continuous effort towards cleansing the heart. "Conversion, every day," recalled Pope Francis, does not mean one must beat oneself as penance for committing a wrong: "No, no, no: small conversions... if you're able to not speak ill of another, you're on the right path to becoming saintly. It 'so easy! I know that you never speak ill of others, no? Little things ... 'I want to criticize a neighbor, a workmate': bite your tongue a bit. The tongue will swell a bit, but your spirit will be holier on this journey. Nothing grand, mortification: no, it's simple. The path to holiness is simple. Do not go back, but always moving forward, right? And with fortitude."

The Holy Eucharist

"We knew not whether we were in heaven or on earth, for surely there is no such splendor or beauty anywhere on earth. We cannot describe it to you; we only know that God dwells there among men and that their Service surpasses the worship of all other places..."

In the latter part of the tenth century, Vladimir the Prince of Kiev sent envoys to various Christian centers to study their form of worship. These are the words the envoys uttered when they reported their presence at the celebration of the Eucharist in the Great Church of Holy Wisdom in Constantinople. The profound experience expressed by the envoys has been one shared by many throughout the centuries who have witnessed for the first time the beautiful and inspiring Divine Liturgy.

The Holy Eucharist is the oldest experience of Christian Worship as well as the most distinctive. Eucharist comes from the Greek word which means thanksgiving. In a particular sense, the word describes the most important form of the Church's attitude toward all of life. The origin of the Eucharist is traced to the Last Supper at which Christ instructed His disciples to offer bread and wine in His memory. The Eucharist is the most distinctive event of worship because in it the Church gathers to remember and celebrate the Life, Death, and Resurrection of Christ and, thereby, to participate in the mystery of Salvation.

The Eucharist is also known as the Divine Liturgy. The word liturgy means people's work; this description serves to emphasize the corporate character of the Eucharist. When one attends the Divine Liturgy, it is not as an isolated person who comes simply to hear a sermon.

Rather, one comes as a member of the Community of Faith who participates in the very purpose of the Church, which is the Worship of the Holy Trinity. Therefore, the Eucharist is truly the center of the life of the Church and the principal means of spiritual development, both for the individual Christian and the Church as a whole. Not only does the Eucharist embody and express the Christian faith in a unique way, but it also enhances and deepens our faith in the Trinity. This sacrament-mystery is the experience toward which all the other activities of the Church are directed and from which they receive their direction.

The Eucharist, the principal sacrament mystery, is not so much a text to be studied, but rather an experience of communion with the Living God in which prayer, music, gestures, the material creation, art and architecture come into full orchestration. The Eucharist is a celebration of faith which touches not only the mind but also the emotions and the senses.
